Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To the D. O. J.

Let's get this case over with. I think the settlement is indeed in the public interest.

And while we're at it ... I wish someone would chastise AOL-Warner for buying Netscape for the sole purpose (in my humble opinion) of having another way to bring litigation against Microsoft ... thereby attempting to stifle the innovative developments that would benefit Computer end users worldwide, instead of competing in a fair and open market.

Sincerely,

Chris Jackson
